

Around The World In Eight Languages

Everyone kept telling me to make sure to study abroad at least once in college. So I joined MIT MISTI and went all around the world, doing research about an old hero of mine. I learned a lot! Plus, I had a good time talking to the locals wherever I went. I always picked up something interesting from them to bring back...

Author's Note: you really can visit all these countries through MISTI! You can also take lots of other languages at MIT, including Chinese, Japanese, Russian, and Korean.
